x A brisk neuroinflammatory response is a hallmark of radiation brain injury. There has been limited assessment of the impact of immunological effects on radiation toxicity in the central nervous system. The roles of blood circulating neutrophils and tumor-infiltrating lymphocytes in chemoradiation-induced temporal lobe necrosis (TLN) in patients with nasopharyngeal carcinoma (NPC) have not ...

Skin color is one of the most conspicuous ways in which humans vary and has been widely used to define human races. Here we present new evidence indicating that variations in skin color are adaptive, and are related to the regulation of ultraviolet (UV) radiation penetration in the integument and its direct and indirect effects on fitness.

The older designations (Table) for the various types of malaria reflect the differences in the diseases caused by the different Plasmodium species. P. falciparum causes the most severe disease, hence the malignant designation. This increase morbidity and mortality correlates with the higher parasitemia associated with P. falciparum infections and the complications arising from sequestration ...
